The profile of the teachers involved

PE teachers, headteachers (secondary school and PE colleges), educational counsellors. Most project associated schools attended. All the participants are members of the “Physical education” commission for secondary education (regional authority of Catholic education).

The contents of the Workshop

➤ Presentation of the NOFP portal

All the tools were addressed (case studies, best practices, toolkits, events, guidelines) and were discussed between peers.

Despite some participants wondering what benefits they could get from them, it soon turned out the NOFP project propose varied materials that everyone can use to update their practice and propose new activities to their students.

➤ Benefits of events like “Rhéto Trophée” and similar projects launched in schools

Rhéto Trophée is based on the cooperation of all partners in sport in French-speaking Belgium (“Fédération Wallonie-Bruxelles”) (secondary schools, PE colleges, public authorities and administrations, sport federation, army...).

The participants wanted to emphasise this exceptional partnership that every year make this event successful, in direction relation to the objectives of the NOFP project.

They reminded how important it is to develop similar projects in schools, in order to let all students (regardless of their level) be involved in sport practice.

➤ Preparation of the final event, to share experiences with a large audience (students, teachers, counsellors...)

The participants suggested organising a final conference in a PE college, mostly addressed to future teachers who are directly concerned by the NOFP project. The topic of racism and discrimination in sport was proposed, including through a presence of former football player Lillian Thuram, founder of “Fondation Lillian Thuram Education contre le racism”.

The opinion expressed by the teachers concerning the database of Toolkits

The Workshop gave participants an overview of the different tools available for each stakeholder category (PE teachers, other teachers, headteachers) and some toolkits were reviewed in a more detailed way. The participants asked us how the Toolkits were produced and evaluated by peers.

At the end of the Workshop, the participants completed the evaluation questionnaire. Their opinion is overall positive, although the tools remain very theoretical and propose a limited number of resources in French.

The plans for the organisation of the event

For agenda reason, the sport event (Rhéto Trophée) was organised with partner schools before the Workshop.
