At the beginning of the workshop there was a short presentation of Datini’s Principal, Mr Danele Santagati, about the Project next steps, and he also informed the teachers who attended the meeting about the Final Event to be held in October 2016.

After that Mr Marco Manzuoli showed examples from the Project Portal concerning the database of best practices, experience of students balancing school and sport and finally the production, by all partners, of toolkits addressed to teachers and students.

All of the teachers expressed a warm appreciation of the materials, considered innovative, useful and expressing a wide variety of situations and contexts. Particularly appreciated was also the friendly and appealing quality of the project portal. They asked how the production of toolkits will be connected with the sport event, and how to take, from toolkits thematic areas, ideas and “limitations” for the creation and organization of the event itself.

The workshop continued with the discussion on the organization and the technical details of the NOFP Final Event. In particular, the different activities which will take place on that occasion were better planned, trying to have a first draft to report in each school.

The workshop ended with some indications about the promotion of the Project Portal among the students, the teachers and the other school actors involved. The group decided also to have a new workshop in order to examine the definitive versions of the toolkits, and decided the contribution of all schools to the final event.
